What are the major goals of your project? Be specific and realistic when stating goals. Remember, a goal is measurable. See the book "Toxic Charity" by Robert D. Lupton.Expectations - What would an Advance gift to your project help you to accomplish? How would a gift make a difference to a person (or persons) with whom you are in ministry? (Please give examples that are as simple, clear, and "human-interest" as possible.)Promotion - Please enclose photos, stories, newsletters, brochures, videos, or any other materials that would help to explain and promote your project.Goals - What measurable goals does your organization have for the upcoming two years?Board of Directors - Include a complete list of your mission/ministry Board of DirectorsFEEDBACK:

In order to maintain CASS (Conference Advance Special Status), an annual written project evaluation report must be submitted to the Conference Advance Committee. This will also enable the Conference Advance Committee to continue to promote your project and for your project to continue to receive funds. The committee will provide the feedback forms to approved projects.
